Were Ancient Gods From Other Planets?: My thoughts on the Ancient Astronaut Theory and God

John McAdam

Mainstream archaeologists want the population to believe that intelligent humans are just the spawn of evolution. Life has been growing on Earth for 3.8 billion years and yet humans are supposedly the only creatures designed to be intelligent on land. How did humans break that gap to become intelligent? Is it possible that one day some caveman decided to stack one stone on top of another and then another until he had a shack to live in? How is it that right out of the nomadic way of life the Sumerians all of a sudden knew how to worship a polytheistic religion, create over 100 of the first traditions we still use today (music, writing, etc.), and of course, why were they building pyramids? Not to mention...how did they know about DNA? In their mythology, their "gods" came from the sky and told them these things...200,000 years ago! Why is it that in every religion around the world you have gods descending from the sky and teaching mankind? Join me as I review a vast amount of topics that to the open-minded person will change your view on history forever. Allow me to take you through history and point out various facts that in a compiled effort will undoubtedly show you that our ancestors were indeed visited and heavily influenced by extra terrestrials the world over.
